

[Finish Protector]

Abstract of Disclosure

The invention/device is a removable, repositionable, non-slip finish protector that shields musical, stringed instruments from scratches, blemishes and abrasions caused by normal wear, guitar picks, belt buckles, zippers, buttons, snaps and decorative attire items. Although developed specifically for musical instruments, this invention will be used to protect any surface from wear and/or to provide a decorative working surface such as a display mat for use on counter tops in music stores and other retail outlets.
